Latest Developments

At least 14 Palestinian refugees were killed in war-ravaged Syria in June 2017, down from 36 in June 2016.

Daraa suburbs topped the list with 11 casualties. One refugee died in Damascus and another in AlRiqa. Another Palestinian died in an unknown location.

Among those killed in June 2016, 18 were pronounced dead in Rif Dimashq, six in Aleppo, and three in Damascus. Six Palestinians were killed in Deir AlZor, Daraa, and AlRiqa, with two casualties each.

Meanwhile, Yarmouk Camp has come under shelling for the third consecutive day.

Overnight on Saturday, the Syrian government forces and their war abettors struck Filastin Mosque, AlJou'ana neighborhood, among other adjacent areas, with mortar shells, resulting in heavy material damage.

A couple of days earlier, Jaysh AlIslam fighters attacked an ISIS site on the outskirts of AlZein neighborhood, adjacent to Yalda town, south of Yarmouk Camp.

In the meantime, the Syrian regime army on Sunday hit AlSadd Road, housing Palestinian families south of Syria, with a gas cylinder. Remarkable material damage was inflicted by the strike.

Several Palestinian families, mostly displaced from Daraa Camp, have sought shelter in AlBalad and AlSadd Road, where living conditions have taken a serious turn for the worse as a result of the raging warfare.

In another development, 150 patients displaced from Yarmouk to Yalda, Babila, and Beit Sahem received free medical check-ups at local clinics on the first day of the Sixth Medical Week launched by the Palestine Charity, in partnership with the Palestinian Red Crescent, south of Damascus.

The registered patients received medical checks, free medicines, and children's milk.

Civilians stranded in Yarmouk Camp, among other areas south of Damascus, have run out of life-saving medicines and medical kit due to the tough cordon imposed by the Syrian regime army and its war partners.
