Victims

"Hisham Zawawi," a member of the Civil Council in the Yarmouk refugee camp died due to a sniper shot, believed that the source of firing is ISIS members in the Yarmouk refugee camp in Damascus. He was buried yesterday at the martyrs' cemetery.

Furthermore the injured young man, Mohammed Diab, from Al Taqadom neighborhood in the besieged Yarmouk Camp, died at Al Orouba area southeast of the camp after being shot in the head by a sniper, the day before yesterday. He was transferred to Al Maydani hospital in Yalda area for treatment and then to a hospital in the capital, where he died due to serious injury. News reported the death of the young man, "Mustafa Ghareeb" during clashes between ISIS and AL Nusra Front, noting that he is a member of the so-called "Al zaaatit" group which paid allegiance previously to ISIS..

The Palestinian refugee "Ahmed Khaled Nassar," from Deraa camp, died due to wounds after an assassination attempt on Wednesday, 06/04/2016.

He is a commander of the so-called "Abnaa Al Aqsa" Brigade affiliated to Tawheed Al Janoub Brigade. It should be noted that the assassinations phenomenon southern Syria, is a source of concern especially that the perpetrator and the party that stands behind it are anonymous under the state of security chaos taking place in the entire region.

Recent Updates

The Syrian regime sukhoi warplanes launched four raids on the outskirts of Khan Al Shieh camp for Palestinian refugee west of the capital Damascustowards Al Salam highway and Al Zohour Street, while drones hovering overhead, provoking panic among people for fear of being targeted, especially children.

Meanwhile, the Regular Army checkpoints are still closing all roads linking the camp with the center of the capital Damascus, which exacerbated the living crises, and the loss of many medications and food supplies, as well as the high prices.

Furthermore, activists and a number of residents from Khan Dannoun camp in Damascus suburb accused associations and groups affiliated with the Syrian regime and Iran, of enticing people and recruiting them in order to fight alongside the Regime Forces for high monthly salaries.

The activists added that those groups, which fall under Palestinian names, carry out ostensibly activities pertaining to the Palestinian cause and the suffering of its people, and aimed dramatically at youth after entreating them.

People of the camp accused those groups of leading the youth to "Al Husseneiat" area (a place where activities and events are held for the Shiite sect) in order to attract them and transmit the Safavid ideas in their minds, in an effort to recruit them and send them to the battlefield against the armed opposition groups.

It should be noted that many of these groups operating inside the Palestinian refugee camps that are still under the regime's control, and recruiting young people under the slogans of the Liberation of Palestine and the protection of the camps, including "al-Quds Brigade" at Al Nairab camp in Aleppo and Al Raml Camp in Lathaqia, in addition to groups of the Palestinian factions such as General Command, Fatah al-intifada and Al Saaiqa. In addition, dozens were killed during the clashes against the armed opposition groups.

Families of the Palestinian refugees, Fadi Sharief Hawarna, 47 years, and Alaa Abdulwahab Durgham, 24 years, renewed their appeal through the AGPS for the Egyptian authorities, the Palestinian embassy in Cairo, the human rights organizations, and institutions concerned with rights of refugees to work for the release of the two refugees from Al Qanater Egyptian prison, after being detained for about 20 months, without any trial or legal action.

The families confirmed that the medical status of Fadi Hawarna is getting deteriorated for the fact that he is a heart patient, especially under the inappropriate circumstances inside the prison, in addition to the large stress he suffers for being detained.

The father of the Palestinian refugee "Alaa Durgham" had confirmed earlier for the AGPS reporter "that Alaa and Fadi traveled from Syria to Egypt under an official entry visa on Thursday 10/07/2014, days after they tried to travel through the" sea boats "in an attempt to reach Europe but they failed. The Egyptian coast guards arrested them with a group of passengers, and a deportation order was issued within only 15 days.

The father of "Alaa" added that all States refused to give them visas, so they remained at "Shubrakheit" prison hoping that the United Nations High Commissioner will interfere to solve their problem.

Yet, 40 days later, and after all other prisoners were released, they lost hope, and were transferred on 02/14/2015 to a prison in the city of Ismailia.

Stressing that the Egyptian security transferred them to a prison in El-Arish on 03/11/2015 and tried to deport them to the Gaza Strip, but one of the UNRWA's officials in Jordan intervened, in addition to the non-approval of the authority of their entry in the Gaza Strip prevented the deportation.

After the attempt fails they were deported to Al Qanater prison in Cairo on 08/24/2015 to date.

Alaa's father also said that the Palestinian embassy in Egypt was unable to get the refugees out of the prison or to transfer them to any other European country, or even providing them some medicine and money".

For its part, the AGPS renew appealing the Egyptian Authorities, the Palestinian Embassy in Cairo, and the Human rights Organizations, especially Amnesty International, Human Rights Watch, and organizations concerned with the rights of refugees, mainly UNRWA and the High Commissioner of the United Nations for Refugees (UNHCR), for working on the release of detainees; they are war refugees not criminals.

It is noteworthy that thousands of Palestinian refugees were displaced from their camps in Syria due to shelling, siege, detention, where more than 3206 victims died till the moment.
