Latest Developments

Palestinian refugees from Syria in Lebanon have slammed the UNRWA, the Palestinian Embassy, and the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) for their reluctance as regards the tragic situation endured by hundreds of displaced families in Lebanon-based refugee camps.

The refugees spoke out against UNRWA cuts of its relief services and cash assistance previously allotted to war-affected families.

Speaking with AGPS on condition of anonymity, a Palestinian refugee lashed out at the Palestinian Embassy in Lebanon for “dragging its feet over the precarious legal status and lack of protection the Palestinians have been made to endure in the Lebanese territories.”

Hundreds of Palestinians from Syria in Lebanon are grappling with deportation concerns and live in a perpetual fear over their families’ safety.

In another development, AGPS kept record of the names of 460 Palestinians held in Syrian government jails in a recent campaign to document the number of detainees in war-torn Syria.

According to AGPS updated statistics, 1,631 Palestinians have been sent to Syrian jails over the past six years.

A list comprising the names of the detainees and their locations are available on the group's official website:

Civil Action

The Palestine Charity Commission continues to provide water to displaced families south of Syria as part of a relief campaign launched in early August.

The charity delivered much-needed water supplies to civilians in AlMzeirib town, in Daraa suburbs, after a lake feeding the area has dried out.

AlMzeirib town, home to 1,700 Palestinian families, has come under heavy shelling by Syria's warring parties.

At the same time, Khayrah Ummah Association handed over clothes to at least 500 Palestinian and Syrian orphans in the Turkish cities of Reyhanli, Adana, and Osmaniye.

The move makes part of underway efforts to assist orphans, sick children, and people with special needs from war-ravaged zones.
